The "Godfather" of theaters! Spire custom designed the acoustical panel in this theater room to feature the client's favorite movie icon.

Before

That's Entertaining!

Homeowner purchases home with an existing, minimalistic entertainment system in the lower level. To optimize the system, Spire Integrated Systems revamped the lower level to produce a state-of-the-art theater room and adjacent game area. This unique theater room features custom designed acoustical panel with a stately image of the "Godfather" that creates a visual masterpiece. Equipped with a Sim2 1080P DLP projector and concealed surround sound system, this theater performs as good as it looks.

To maximize the capabilities of the Control 4 automation system in the lower level, Spire integrated it through the whole house. Now the homeowner has complete control of the audio/video, lighting control and thermostat systems with the simple touch of a button. Now that's entertaining!
